

THE DR. MARYANNE SIDERITS ANNUAL

DISTINGUISHED LECTURE IN GENDER AND SEXUALITY STUDIES

CHALLENGES TO MODERN GENDER SOCIALIZATION: CONTRIBUTIONS OF MEDIA MESSAGES, SEXUAL STEREOTYPES, AND RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

April 28, 2022

2:00-3:30 PM

Virtually on Microsoft Teams

Register at EventBrite:
<https://tinyurl.com/Siderits-Series-GenderTalk>

Dr. L. Monique Ward

Dr. Ward is a professor of psychology at the University of Michigan. Her research interests delve into how the media and social relations impact children and adolescents and their conception of gender, sexuality, dating and sexual relationships.

Dr. Seanna Leath

Dr. Leath is an assistant professor who runs the Fostering Healthy Identities and Resilience Lab at the University of Virginia. This research involves addressing how race and gender identity beliefs may support psychological resilience among Black girls.

Ms. Tiani Perkins

Ms. Perkins is a Graduate Student in Personality and Social Contexts at the University of Michigan. Her aim of study includes psychological consequences of racial discrimination and mainstream media on mental health and academic success of marginalized college students.